DETAILED ACTION

1. All of the objections and rejections made in the previous Office action have been overcome by the amendment filed on January 30, 2006, except for the requirement to distinguish the Summary of the Invention in the specification.

37 CFR 1.77(b)(7) requires that the specification include a Summary of the Invention. The requirements of the Summary of the Invention are explicitly outlined in 37 CFR 1.73:

“A brief summary of the invention indicating its nature and substance, which may include a statement of the object of the invention, should precede the detailed description. Such summary should, when set forth, be commensurate with the invention as claimed and any object recited should be that of the invention as claimed.”

MPEP 608.01(d), further describes the requirements of the Summary of the Invention:

“Since the purpose of the brief summary of invention is to apprise the public, and more especially those interested in the particular art to which the invention relates, of the nature of the invention, the summary should be directed to the specific invention being claimed, in contradistinction to mere generalities which would be equally applicable to numerous preceding patents. That is, the subject matter of the invention should be described in one or more clear, concise sentences or paragraphs. Stereotyped general statements that would fit one application as well as another serve no useful purpose and may well be required to be canceled as surplusage, and, in the absence of any illuminating statement, replaced by statements that are directly on point as applicable exclusively to the case at hand.

The brief summary, if properly written to set out the exact nature, operation, and purpose of the invention, will be of material assistance in aiding ready understanding of the patent in future searches. The brief summary should be more than a mere statement of the objects of the invention[emphasis added].

These sections make it clear that a Summary of the Invention, with an appropriate section heading (note 37 CFR 1.77), be included in a manner directly on point and applicable exclusively to the case at hand (as in the case of paragraphs 31-36) may be required by the examiner.

The amendment filed on January 30, 2006 is non-compliant with the requirement for a proper summary of the invention set forth in the previous Office action.

Conclusion

2. In accordance with MPEP 704.01, full faith and credit is given to the search made by the previous examiner. This application is in condition for allowance except for the formal matters noted above.

Prosecution on the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

A shortened statutory period for reply to this action is set to expire TWO MONTHS from the mailing date of this letter.
